An Aircraft Maintenance Engineer's fundamental purpose is to ensure aircraft are safe and airworthy to fly. No aircraft takes off without being certified to do so by an engineer. It's a role people don't often think about, however, it's one of the most crucial roles when it comes to the safety and viability of the aviation industry. If you enjoy finding practical solutions to complex problems and knowing how things work, then this might be the career path for you. Learning about the technology behind the aircraft systems and fixing them makes for a fascinating and rewarding career. Aviation Australia offers a range of aircraft maintenance engineering courses, including career starter and career enhancer courses, to suit all skill levels and career paths. Why become an Aircraft Maintenance Engineer? Well paid job outcomes for a global qualification, especially if you become licensed.Jobs are in demand worldwide Work anywhere in the world Career growth opportunities Work with the latest technology Use hands-on skills Work in a team environment International and Domestic Students This course is targeted at international students wishing to study in Australia to gain an EASA Part 66 Aircraft Maintenance Engineer Licence outcome. Students learn the skills to maintain jet engines, brake and undercarriage systems, structural components, cabin pressurisation, fuel and pneumatic components, flight controls, hydraulics and much more. *Payment plans are available. There are nearly 120 Aircraft Maintenance Engineering colleges across India which offer programmes in Aircraft Maintenance Engineering (AME). Out of these 97 per cent colleges are private, three per cent are public/government colleges. These offer full-time, distance-learning and part-time modes of study. Aircraft Maintenance Engineering in India Highlights Parameters Particulars/ Statistics No. of Aircraft Maintenance Engineering colleges in India Nearly 120 colleges in India Fees - Annual fee < Rs 1 lakh: 2.8% - Annual fee Rs 1-2 lakh: 50% Admission Process - Entrance-based Aircraft Maintenance Engineering is an engineering course that revolves around the maintenance, repair, and solving of the issues of an aircraft. The licensed AME are eligible to work in Government and private sector worldwide. Students who have cleared their Class 12 in PCM stream or have completed equivalent AICTE approved 3-years engineering diploma in any stream or any higher qualification in science with PCM at the time of admission are eligible for the programme. Aircraft Maintenance Engineering course duration is of 4 years in which student undergo through 2 years of the academic programme and 2 years of the training program in the flying environment such as airlines, MRO, airport, etc. The aviation sector has a wide scope in India and abroad. With the increase in production of airports and aircrafts, the requirement of AME will increase which leads to new career opportunities. Top Aircraft Maintenance Engineering colleges in India accept score obtained by students in numerous national or state-level examinations, including SSAT, JEE Main, Karnataka PG CET, GATE, HITS/EE and many more. There are several BTech colleges in major cities across the country such as Delhi/NCR, Pune, Bengaluru, Mumbai, Hyderabad, Chennai, Kolkata and so on. Aircraft Maintenance Engineering in India Eligibility Criteria Engineering candidates who aim to study at Aircraft Maintenance Engineering colleges in India must fulfil the following eligibility criteria: Candidates should have passed Class 12 Board exam with Physics, Chemistry and Mathematics (PCM) or equivalent AICTE approved 3-years engineering diploma in any stream or any higher qualification in science with PCM at the time of admission Candidate must have secured a minimum aggregate of 45 per cent in Class 12 in PCM or equivalent Candidates who are eligible for admission in BTech Courses are also eligible for Aircraft Maintenance Engineering Course Candidates' age should be between 16 and 28 years at the time of admission Candidate must not have colour blindness and any physical disabilities Top Aircraft Maintenance Engineering Colleges in India with NIRF Ranking and Shiksha Rating (Aggregate) Agencies like NIRF give ranking to colleges based on various parameters like teaching, learning and resources, research and professional practices, graduation outcomes, outreach and inclusivity and perception. Shiksha aggregate rating is an authenticated rating given by the students based on five different parameters such as placements, infrastructure, faculty & course, curriculum, crowd & campus life and value for money. Following is a list of top AME college in India ranked by NIRF along with Shiksha Rating (Aggregate): List of Top Private and Government AME Colleges in India Private Aircraft Maintenance Engineering Colleges in India Government Aircraft Maintenance Engineering Colleges in India Refer to the infographic below to get a detailed overview of the ownership types of Aircraft Maintenance Engineering colleges in India. Location-Wise AME Colleges in India There are several Aircraft Maintenance Engineering colleges in India. Out of all the cities, Delhi/NCR has the maximum number of AME colleges in India. Refer to the infographic below for a detailed overview. ROI of Top AME Colleges in India Return on Investment or ROI shows how beneficial it is to pursue a particular course from a particular college. It is the comparison between the fee invested by the student while studying and the return he/she gets in the form of placement. In the case of popular AME courses, selecting a college or university based on the ROI factor can be very much valued. This is helpful when it becomes difficult to choose between two shortlisted colleges.
